

The airwaves are part of the commonwealth and removing ownership regulations will not help, but hurt the commonwealth. Independent ownership and operation should be encouraged. Removing what little ownership regulation left from the Reagan Administration's drastic deregulatory policies will not promote independent media.